Person Centred Practice

Person-centered practice is service and supports provided by service providers that places the person at the centre of their own care. Person-centered practice is treating Service Users as they want to be treated. Cork CIL Service Users are often called Leaders as they 'lead' their own service.

Covid -19 – Dual Employment

Covid-19 has presented a challenge to all of us and especially in Health and Social care. We assess the risk of all staff workplace activities to manage and reduce that risk. If you are currently working with another organisation and are applying to work with Cork CIL as a second or additional employer please tell us in your application so the risk may be assessed

Covid -19 Vaccination

Covid-19 vaccination is recommended for all staff. Information is available at <https://www.hse.ie/eng/health/immunisation/hcpinfo/covid19vaccineinfo4hps/> Vaccination remains a personal choice and the vaccination status of both staff and Service user is an important consideration when we assess risk in the workplace and will affect what role an employee may be assigned to

Equal Opportunities Statement

Cork CIL is committed to taking action to develop employment processes which are fair and free from unnecessary bias and services capable of offering sensitive and effective support with due regard to diversity and difference. As such the policy of equal opportunity relates to all present and future employees and to all present and potential users of the service.

DUTY OF CONFIDENTIALITY

The use and sharing of service user personal information forms an essential part of the provision of health and social care. It benefits individual service users, enables health and social services to function effectively and is often necessary in the public interest. However, the essential nature of such uses needs to be set alongside the expectation service users have that all personal information will be kept confidential.

The relationship between health and social care staff and service users should be one of fidelity and trust. Service users have a tacit understanding that private information will not be used or disclosed without their knowledge and consent. All Cork – CIL staff therefore have strong ethical and legal obligations to protect service user information. The right to confidentiality is guaranteed partly by the Data Protection Act 1998 / 2003 and Freedom of Information Act 1997.

This description is not restrictive and the post holder may be required to carry out other duties as requested by their Service Co-ordinator / Manager .
